

“PUTTING IT ACROSS”

The Allied War Veterans are making a grand success of their Minstrel Show, and as they say on the street they are “putting it across” in fine style. The object is a worthy one—to fit up and make their home a suitable one. Let's make it the financial success that it deserves to be.

CONSTANTINOPLE REMAINS TURKISH

Sultan Notified---But He Must Stop Armenian Massacres

(By Associated Press)
London, Feb. 17.—Great Britain, it was learned today, has instructed Admiral De Robek at Constantinople to announce to the sultan that the allies have decided not to deprive Turkey of Constantinople. If the persecution of the Armenians continues however, the sultan will be instructed to say the peace treaty with Turkey may be considerably modified.

The fact that continued possession of Constantinople had been granted her should not be misconstrued by Turkey, the British representative was directed to inform the Turkish government in plain words. It did not mean, he was told to say, that the allies would deal leniently with Turkey should the recently reported atrocities continue. The allied supreme council today considered the latest reports of massacres of Armenians. Note was taken of the fact that the reports for the most part emanated from Armenian sources. Admiral Robek will point out to the sultan that they must show an inclination to comport themselves properly or be subjected to a peace more severe than the council now is disposed to arrange.

This statement was made officially here today with the further statement that the American position was outlined not in the nature of a threat but as a statement of a situation created “by an act of the American government but by an act of the British and Italian premiers.”

FALLING OFF IN BIDDING FOR SHIPS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 17.—Contrary to expectation only one bid for any of the thirty former German liners was received today when the Shipping Board auction to receive competitive offers was resumed with the ships offered one at a time. A bid of $550,000 for the Osego by E. J. Roberts Acme Operating Corporation, New York, was the only one made for 19 steamers offered. The largest ships of the fleet including the Leviathan, Agamemnon and George Washington were among those offered individually without attracting offers.

NEW CASTLE

Newcastle, Feb. 17.—Dr. G. L. Hanson of Newcastle, just off a sick bed, where he was laid low by the influenza, is about to undertake the chairmanship for his town in the New East relief campaign in behalf of the Armenian orphans. The case illustrates the way in which this New East drive is progressing. It is already two weeks old and officially has only a week more to run, but it is just beginning in most parts of the state and new workers are entering it daily. It gives every indication of merging into a permanent charity, or rather, one that will continue so long as there is distillation in Armenia. Instead of being a rushed through campaign it is becoming a process of foundation-laying for steady giving. Churches, women's clubs and in one instance a garage are making specific contributions for orphan support which in many instances will be renewed from time to time. So wide only a comparatively small number of towns have joined their quotas, many are giving considerable sums, and a steady revenue for orphan support is being established. In some places however, the campaign is going in and out of the drive without, and large counties are being attained. The campaign, for instance, got under way in Exeter a few days ago, and it is said that it is going well there. Meanwhile, a promising side development is taking place, a state-wide woman's organization being in process of construction under the leadership of Mrs. James W. Henick of Concord, and the clubs, societies, chapters, and lodges, of all kinds, social, religious, collegiate and fraternal, are becoming permanently interested in relief work for the Armenian children.

AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION A 'RIOT OF WASTE'

Sub-committee Indicts Ryan and the Spruce Forest Railroad.

(By Associated Press)
Washington Feb. 16.—The report of the long continued investigation of the aircraft production during the war was presented today in the House by the special sub-committee, who have been at work for some months. Representative Prew and McKee the republican members of the sub-committee characterized the aviation program as a "riot of waste while representative Lee the democrat member, declared that the republican members had sacrificed facts for sensationalism. Both reports differ in the achievements and production of the aircraft board during the war. A prominent place is given the majority report on the connection of John D. Ryan the director in connection with the construction of a government railroad which rebounded to the benefit of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroads, which Ryan is a director. Besides Mr. Ryan it attacks W. C. Potter as assistant and Co. 2nd ward A. Deeds who proceeded Mr. Ryan. The majority report also devoted some space to an indictment of the spruce forest work and they recommended that the aircraft production be made a separate department.

COST OF LIVING HAS DOUBLED SINCE 1914

Boston, Feb. 16.—That the cost of living in the State of Massachusetts has increased ninety-two per cent since 1914, that instances of profiteering in commodities have been "very rare," and that legislation is not only powerless to remedy the situation but will "ordinarily do more harm than good," are the findings of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life, in its report submitted to the legislature today. The cause of this increase, the committee finds is due largely to an increased demand and a decreased supply, both of which are natural outgrowths of the war.

The Commission, which consists of Brigadier General John H. Sherburne of Brookline, Mayor Charles H. Adams of Melrose, and John D. Willard of Amherst was created by legislative act on Aug. 1 last year, and has made an exhaustive study of the situation. It recommends no legislation to control prices directly, but submits eight recommendations which it believes will have the effect of ameliorating certain conditions. "As a remedy for the general situation," it says, "legislation is powerless, and will ordinarily do more harm than good. The situation rests upon the basic and fundamental laws of economics, which are as immutable as the laws of gravity. The law-making bodies, whether of State or nation, cannot make an apple fall upwards nor can they make new cotton grow. Laws will not make men plant wheat or make them produce more shoes. All that can be done is to act as much as possible the equalizers of the economic laws."

War, the report says, has always had the effect of increasing prices, and one of the charts accompanying the report shows that, following the Civil War thirteen years elapsed before the pre-war price level was reached. The commission, somewhat pessimistically points out, in this connection, that the World War surpassed all other in number of men destroyed, in money cost and in curtailment of production. Also, after every other war, there have been nations ready with goods and capital to aid in restoring depleted supplies and to renew industries.

While the war is the general cause of the advance in prices, the commission says it has had that effect only because it has caused economic laws to act with greater violence than they ordinarily do. Five general causes are noted—(1) the law of supply and demand, under which general heading are included war wastage, loss of produc-

DEADLY MENACE OF NEGLECTED COLDS

They Lead to Pneumonia or Serious Throat and Lung Troubles.

Doctors know that a great many serious throat and lung troubles, and fatal cases of pneumonia develop from neglected colds so common at this season. Treat your cold promptly by using Father John's Medicine which gives new strength to ward off impending disease because it is pure and wholesome nourishment for those who are weakened and run down. Remember that Father John's Medicine is free from alcohol or dangerous drugs and therefore is a safe family medicine, fine for children as well as older people.

Extravagant expenditure and foreign exports and imports; (2) currency expansion and inflation of credit which affects the value of the purchasing medium; (3) increase in costs of production; (4) increased taxation; and (5) so-called profiteering.

"When the United States entered the war," the report says, "the Government at once became a frantic buyer and industry was stimulated to produce merchandise for war uses as against the ordinary uses of civil life. The result was a great lowering in the supply of commodities for ordinary life."

"Loss of productive power of the greatest single element in production—labor—has caused a further deficiency in the already reduced supply of merchandise. As enormous numbers of men previously engaged in production were taken away from their work, for one to two years for military purposes. A considerable number of these men have been killed or so injured that their usefulness is gone. In addition, immigration has been below normal, and the tide has turned the other way, many aliens having left this country."

Labor Reduces Output

"Shorter hours of labor and the more stringent conditions of labor unrest, strikes, changing jobs, and the tendency to take frequent vacations have reduced the productivity of labor in this country. Hours of labor have been shortened in Massachusetts from 64 to 48 per week, and in some cases to 44 hours. Ordinarily a reduction in hours of labor does not show a similar reduction in production but testimony of owners of cotton mills, manufacturers of woolen and worsted goods, the shoe trade, clothing manufacturers, building contractors and others, is all to the effect that the per capita production based upon pre-war standards has fallen off not only in a percentage equal to the reduction in hours, but in even a greater proportion."

War, the report says, has always had the effect of increasing prices, and one of the charts accompanying the report shows that, following the Civil War thirteen years elapsed before the pre-war price level was reached. The commission, somewhat pessimistically points out, in this connection, that the World War surpassed all other in number of men destroyed, in money cost and in curtailment of production. Also, after every other war, there have been nations ready with goods and capital to aid in restoring depleted supplies and to renew industries.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and a "old-time enemy," discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them, 10c and 25c.

STATES TO UPHOLD THE DRY LAW

Boston, Feb. 16.—The majority of the states which ratified the prohibition amendment will act together to uphold the constitutionality of the law. Governor Carl M. H. of Maine stated today, "The plans and the names of the states which will act will be made public later. The statement was given out on his return from New York today where he had been to consult Charles E. Hughes on the matter as Mr. Hughes will act as the Counsel for the states."

CHURCHES FAVOR SUNDAY BASEBALL

Boston Feb. 16.—Baseball and other amateur sports were warmly advocated before the Legislative Committee on Legal Affairs today by a united delegation of church members, city and town officials, legislators and interested citizens from all parts of the Commonwealth. Men who, for several years, have been working for Sunday amateur sports today considered the victory won when William W. Patton, representing the moral and social welfare committee of the State Association of Congregational churches, placed that organization on record in favor of the bills now being considered by the committee.

It was pointed out that last year the Sunday baseball bill was adversely reported by the committee, as the members were divided 7 to 7. The House failed to enact the measure, but the Senate passed the bill by a vote of 21 to 6. It was then returned to the House where it was defeated by a scant majority of 13 votes.

Mr. Patton said that six of the eight members of the committee he represents will submit a report to the next State convention of the association arguing that the organization as a whole favors the legalizing of amateur Sunday games and sports without any form of financial gain, between the hours of 2 and 6 p. m. He said it was the belief of the committee that this action should be taken in view of the present condition of affairs, which he characterized as breeding disregard for law and order by reason of the unpopularity of the law by "prominent citizens" as well as communities as a whole.

Fourteen bills were before the committee the majority of which called for the legalizing of amateur Sunday sports of all kinds during the afternoon hours, the cities or towns being allowed to accept or reject the law as they saw fit.

Representative William H. McDonnell of Boston said he is in favor of the legislation because it would be a deterrent to the commission of petty crime.

"The busiest day in court for the disposition of small cases of this nature," he said, "is on Mondays, when trials are being conducted in crap shooting cases and other misdemeanors."

RAILROAD REORGANIZATION AGREED ON

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 16.—Final agreement on the railroad reorganization was reached late today by the House and Senate Conference who will have the report ready to sign tomorrow and present to the House on the following day. Aside from textual changes the general features follow the lines agreed upon with the exception of the labor clause, which was modified and that it provides for a federal appeal board appointed by the President of nine members made up from the men, the railroad and the public, instead of five members as first suggested.

Portsmouth, N. H., Tuesday, February 17, 1920.

An Inviting Opportunity.

The announcement made in the columns of this paper a few days ago of the coming prize essay contest should be of prime interest to the pupils of the schools of Portsmouth and vicinity, as there will be prizes for these pupils aside from those offered to competitors fortunate enough to win the national prizes, which, as will be recalled, will mean a trip to Washington, D. C., accompanied by the parents of the winners, and medals to be presented by Secretary of War Baker. There will be only three of these prizes, but there is a considerable number of those offered locally, and all are well worth striving for.

In fact, the prizes, tempting as they are, will not constitute the chief benefit derived by the winners. The greatest good will accrue from the effort expended and the satisfaction of having achieved distinction in an open and honorable contest, participation in which cannot fail to be beneficial whether one's name is included in the list of winners or not.

Essay writing is one of the best of mental exercises. Careful study of the subject is necessary and care must be exercised in reducing to writing the conclusions reached. There is more than one way of stating a thing, but there is only one best way, and this is what the participants in this contest must strive to reach. This means work, but it is work that will be highly beneficial to the boys and girls who take part, all of whom, in a certain sense, will be winners.

The subject in this contest is "What are the Benefits of an Enlistment in the U. S. Army?" In dealing with it the boys and girls of this city and region will have the advantage of what they learned during the World War from the activities here, which were greater than in many larger cities. The presence of the navy yard and the shipyards and the nearness of Fort Constitution gave the young people of the region an opportunity to learn at first hand something of the realities of war, and with this knowledge as a foundation those who take part in the contest should be able to produce highly creditable results; and while striving earnestly for the prizes they should bear in mind that it is not necessary to be a winner in order to reap substantial gains from their efforts.

As has been published, the prizes will be awarded by competent and conscientious judges, and there will be perfectly fair treatment for all. It is to be hoped and expected that there will be a goodly list of entries from the schools of Portsmouth and vicinity, which rank second to none in the state or the country. The opportunity is one which ambitious boys and girls cannot afford to overlook, for while some will win more than others it is possible for all to win the satisfaction and credit which come from honorable effort, and this in itself is no mean achievement.

To George H. Whitcler of Concord goes the position of director of federal prohibition in this state. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Agricultural College and has been for years engaged in educational work in this state. His new position is one of great responsibility, but he has the record of an earnest and persevering man and the people of the state will look for satisfactory work at his hands in his new and larger field.

Some sections in Maine are suffering from winter drouth and farmers are drawing water long distances for their cattle. The winter is making a record in New England that will not soon be forgotten.

The Massachusetts commissioner of correction wants the state to provide pay at one dollar a week for men in penal institutions, the money to go to their dependents or be saved for themselves when they are discharged. But if this step is taken how long will it be before the prisoners strike for a raise?

Gerrit Fort, vice president and traffic manager of the Boston and Maine railroad, correctly senses public sentiment in New England when he says it is "overwhelmingly for the private ownership and operation of the railroads." It is.

The pay of city laborers in Lawrence, Mass., has been raised from $4 a day to $5. This places them on a level with the fire and police departments. Now how long will it be before the latter will want another raise?

Clearing its streets of snow is said to have cost New York city $5,000,000 a day. But New York is a big town and was right in the path of the blizzard.

Cheer up, the government is after the profiteers with a sharp stick. Out of 895 arrests there have already been 28 convictions!

It is said the nation's public debt has been decreased $930,000,000 in the last five months, while the floating debt has been reduced $730,000,000. This is moving in the right direction, but we are yet a long way from the end of the road.

NO MORE CUT RATES FOR THE ENLISTED MEN

Must Pay Full Fare When Riding on the Railroad After Feb. 29.

The return of railroads by the government to the original owners on March 1 will not likely meet the approval of the soldiers, sailors and marines. After February 29 these men of Uncle Sam's service will lose a valuable privilege which they have enjoyed during the war concerning transportation.

On that date the one cent furlough rate and 2 cent discharge rates on all railroads will be cancelled and the enlisted force will be obliged to pay the same rate as civilians, three cents per mile when they travel.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Apologies Now Due

(From the Boston Commonwealth)
In view of what Dr. Young says of the President's condition, we presume that people will stop calling Senator Moses a liar.

Misunderstands General Wood

(From the Charlotte News and Courier, Dea.)
Universal military training used to be an cardinal plank of General Wood's platform, but in view of the way sentiment is crystallizing against that proposal, the general may be expected to find another leading issue.

A Bright Spot in Robert Lansing's Career.

The United States of America owes to Robert Lansing the fact that it is not involved in the impracticable project of vengeance decreed against the former German Emperor by the Allies at the Paris Conference.

Secretary Lansing had the perception to force and the courage to point out the difficulties and dangers of this scheme of revenge.

He was strong enough to stand firm against the natural desire of the French people to involve this country in a plan which unquestionably embodied an understandable national ambition.

He was sufficiently endowed with good sense to hold his position in spite of the mandate with which Lloyd George emerged from the British War election of 1918.

He applied to the proposal the tests inevitably indicated by acquaintance with the precedents of American constitutional law and the traditions of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence.

The menace of ex post facto enactments was clear to him.

The political intimacies of the design were clear to him; he permitted no burst of passion to cloud his mind to them.

Time has vindicated the stand taken by Robert Lansing.

The former Kaiser and his prosecution are now seen in true perspective by all who care and dare to look ahead as well as behind.

The English people are recovering from their madness.

The French people still affect to adhere uncritically to their original enterprise, but their case is unlike that of other nations. Their reaffirmation of good law and wise statesmanship may be confidently expected for they are too astute to fail to understand that a prosecution which would be transformed in republican Germany into a persecution might eventually restore monarchial Germany. They are fully aware that democracy cannot afford to play the game of absolutism, however tempting the immediate object of its betrayal of its own ideals may seem.

Robert Lansing is entitled to survey with entire satisfaction his record in the detail of the generally unfortunate Paris Conference.

The Joy of Standpatism

(From the Detroit Free Press)
The plight of "thick and thin" supporters of the President's treaty ratification policy is really pitiful. They want desperately to be regular, but they cannot find out in what regularity consists. When they appeal to the White House the skies are as brass. No answer comes from the throne. In place of information rumor rears its head and spouts clouds of obscuring and contradictory stories calculated to make the heads of the never-die stand-patists swim. Mr. Wilson is extremely angry with Viscount Grey for what he has said and intends to create a section in secretly pleased with the state-son Sackville West episode. Mr. Wilson of the vicarage. Indeed it was made with the knowledge and perhaps with the consent of the President. Mr. Wilson has only a very vague knowledge of what is going on. Mr. Wilson is keeping in close touch with every move and is fully prepared for action.

Anyone can select the story he wishes to accept because apparently one is just as authoritative as the other. Some that are making selections are indulging in joyous dives and are ereating clouds of spray that may choke them when they finally come up for air.

RUNAWAY COUPLE COME HERE TO MARRY

A marriage that caused some surprise to the friends and parents of the bride and groom, took place in this city Saturday when Miss Olga Moulton, 19, an attractive brunette, daughter of Charles G. Moulton, cashier of the Limerick National Bank of Limerick, Me., and Bernard Libby, a student at the Maine University, were quietly wed by Rev. Percy W. Caswell. The groom was radio operator in the Navy during the war.

The bride has been passing the winter at the Lafayette Hotel, Portland, a guest of her aunt, who was not advised of the affair.

The romance, which culminated in the marriage of the two Limerick young people, grew out of a childhood acquaintance in their native town.

For some reason, it is said, the couple decided to be married at once, and Saturday forenoon barged a train for Portsmouth. Here they filed marriage intentions, and after the five-day clause had been waived, the couple went to a clergyman's house and were married. They returned to Portland Saturday afternoon, the young bride going to the Lafayette, and the groom to a nearby hotel.

Sunday morning the bride in some way managed to get enough clothing together without her aunt's knowledge and went to Union station where they boarded the train for Boston. It is said that they will go from there to New York, and perhaps later may proceed to Florida to pass their honeymoon. It is understood that the bride before she left the hotel penned a note to her aunt in which she revealed her secret marriage to Mr. Libby, the companion of her childhood days.

The bride's mother, who died a year ago, was Mrs. Frances E. Moulton, for several years president of the Limerick National Bank, she being one of the few women in Maine selected to a position of such responsibility. It is said that the bride is quite wealthy, and while she passed the summers at her home in Limerick, spending much of her time in riding about the county in a big Cadillac limousine, her winters were passed in Portland.

AIEKN-BROWN

On the evening of Saturday, Feb. 7, Arthur H. Aiken and Annie B. Brown were quietly married at the city clerk's office. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKenney, a brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

ADMIRAL BENSON TO SUCCEED J. B. PAYNE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 17.—Rear Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, during the war and now on the retired list has been selected by President Wilson to succeed John Barton Payne as a member of the shipping board. Admiral Benson's nomination will not be sent to the senate until Chairman Payne finds out several pressing matters now before the board, before taking over the office of secretary of the Interior, a succession to Franklin K. Lane, whose resignation is effective March 1. It was said at the White House that this would probably take about a month.

WANTED CLOSED SHOP AND GOT IT

Warren Shoe Co. at Somersworth Pulls a Queer Move.

A queer movement made by the firm of E. L. Warren & Co., shoe manufacturers at Somersworth, is a puzzle to organized labor and the merchants and property owners of that town. The factory has been closed and no reasons given by the owners.

On Monday a delegation of union employees of the factory waited upon the employers and asked that the plant be made a closed shop. It had previously been operated as an open shop. Their demands were listened to. The delegation departed, on the arrival of the employees for the afternoon shift, at 1 o'clock, they found notices posted to the effect that the shop was closed.

It is a natural inference that the shop was closed as a result of the presentation of the employees' demands, but, while no explanations have been forthcoming, other ideas have been advanced as possible reasons for the action. It is said that the company is well ahead on orders and that the freight tie-ups have resulted in overcrowded warehouses.

As the shop has a weekly payroll of $11,000 and has been doing an exceptionally good business of late, the merchants and property owners of the city are naturally desirous that a settlement be made as speedily as possible.

THE HERALD HEARS

That the regular meeting of the police board was postponed on Monday night.

That an hour's stay at the Portsmouth depot will convince any one that the old Boston and Maine is shut to pieces.

That the pastor of the Union Congregational church at 22nd Street has asked for letters from various men on the following questions: "Why are not more men of church on Sundays? Do you consider the church is serving the best interests of the community? What method do you suggest to improve the church's usefulness? Suggest any subject you would like to hear the ministers preach on."

That most of the replies were made as follows: "Lack of good preachers. More sociability in the church needed. Good music. More interesting sermons."

That the girl with the unbuttoned apron in a snow storm might make a hit with herself but it ends right there.

That the Yankee, Ind., News-Times announces that Ralph Brestons, who was acquitted by a jury in the credit court, was not charged with stealing an automobile, as stated. The charge was merely of taking a car that did not belong to him.

That Ralph ought to try the game in some other line. Nothing like an honest thief.

That the first hundred years for snow shovels on the Daniel street sidewalk are the worst.

That the ice men can have no short of crop this year.

That the passengers who left Dover on Sunday night and reached Portsmouth at 9 Monday morning had a merry night in Rosemary.

That if the summer prophet doesn't hit it any better than the winter prophet he should retire from the game.

That the Oswego, N. Y. Times reports between 12 and 14 feet of snow falling there recently.

That the city ought to get rid of it by August 1, 1920.—Some snow fall.

That a report says the ocean is constantly receding.

That perhaps these modern female bathing suits are the cause of this modest shrinking.

THE HONORS FOR THE ESSAY CONTEST

Further honors for the winning students in this contest, a suggestion has been made that if a male student is among one of the three national winners, that he be recommended by the Secretary of War for appointment to a cadetship at the West Point Military academy.

Get busy boys and let us have one student from the city of Portsmouth to go to Washington and receive a prize, then enter the great Military School at West Point.

WILSON'S NOTE WAS NOT AN ULTIMATUM

London and France Accept
Explanation that Their First
Interpretation Was Too
Sweeping.

(By Associated Press)

London, Feb. 16.—President Wilson's note to the Peace Conference on the Adriatic question has furnished London politicians and newspapers with a surprise of more interest than the Wilson-Lanning controversy. The first version of the note gave it the nature of an ultimatum but later this stiff-neck attitude was softened by the news from Washington that too sweeping an interpretation has been placed on the note. Private advice from Downing street also showed a conciliatory note as disclosed in the tendency to allow England to take care of the Kaiser and to allow Germany to try her war criminals.

CHANGES MUST BE RATIONAL

Revolution Cannot Improve Things, Says Compters.

New York, Feb. 16.—Improvement in present conditions in America must come by rational development and not by revolution, according to Samuel Compters, president of the American Federation of Labor, presiding here today over a conference of the National Civic Federation, held for the purpose of combating revolutionary action.

CATARH DOES HARM

Whether It Is of the Nose, Throat, or Other Organs, Get Rid of It.

Catarh of the nose or throat when it becomes chronic weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and may lead to consumption. It impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice. It is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by purifying the blood removes the cause of the disease and gives permanent relief. This alternative and tonic medicine has proved entirely satisfactory to thousands of families in three generations.

If there is biliousness or constipation, take Hood's Pills—they are a thorough cathartic, a gentle laxative.

vices and upholding the American

"It is better to have a few mistakes made by the masses than to have a wise autocracy, for the people learn by their own mistakes, but they learn nothing from the mistakes of an autocrat. As to autocracy, in America we don't want any of it," declared the labor leader in his address, in which he pointed out the failure of the Russian revolution to accomplish its purpose.

John W. Sullivan, former member of the war labor board, who was one of the speakers said:
"Through an interlocking directorate including not more than 500 persons the radical organizations of the country are attempting to gain control of American industry and destroy the present system of government."

"Today," he said "there is a real and provable communion between disloyalty, anarchism, Bolshevism, revolution of every kind, religious pacifism and many other new 'isms' and there are relations from these, not only to disloyalty, but from each to each of the others."

"The person is at work throughout; it is impossible as yet to measure its effect."

There are more than 500 men and women directing the "forces of all the organs of disloyalty and unrest in the country," said Mr. Sullivan.

KILINOS WINS FROM GARDNER IN SINGLE FALL

John Kilinos defeated Pinkey Gardner before a large crowd of fans at Freeman's hall on Monday evening in a very fast match. Both men were in great condition and the match was lightning fast, with Gardner apparently holding his own with the sturdy Greek. The match at times was rough, but Gardner rather outshone John, but always willing to drop it and get down to straight business fast. It was a whirlwind affair with neither man getting any apparent advantage for the first hours they were grappling. Several times Gardner wiggled out of some tough places and the same in turn of Kilinos, and there were few holds which were not tried.

The first fall was in 33 minutes when Kilinos caught Gardner off guard and poked him up and whirled him in a giant swing. When he dropped on him it was all over. Neither could get up for a few minutes, but Gardner was apparently all in after he came too. At the end of the rest he appeared in the ring and announced that his head was not clear and he could not go on and then gave a sensational flop on the floor.

GERMANY TO TRY WAR CRIMINALS

GOLDSTEIN ON BOLSHEVISM

Portsmouth Council of the Knights of Columbus announces that our city is to be included in the reconstruction program of the Knights of Columbus for the perpetuation of American institutions and Christian civilization. On February 25th David Goldstein, secretary of the Boston School of Political Economy will speak in Music Hall at 8 o'clock p. m. on the subject of "Bolshevism: What Is It? The Remedy for It."

Admission to the lecture is free to the public. Seats have been reserved for world war veterans who are present taking a decidedly keen interest in the world's greatest problem. The lecture of Mr. Goldstein will be of special interest to them.

Mr. Goldstein is an expert on sociological problems. His latest book, "Bolshevism: Its Cure," issued in collaboration with Mrs. Martha Moore Avery, is considered a masterpiece. His powerful arguments are concisely written, and interestingly put to curb the spread of socialism throughout our country.

In appreciation of his Chautauque work it was said that "Mr. Goldstein is an interesting speaker, gifted with a keen, penetrating intellect, a marvelous flow of language and a trenchant almost cold-blooded way of driving fact after fact right home to his hearers. He does not mince words, and every sentence he utters is given in a way that almost forces assent."

In this lecture the public shall be served to a real and unusual treat; and we feel sure that we shall all be better as a result of Mr. Goldstein's visit. The lecture will be one of the big events of the year in the way of intellectual and moral entertainment for our community. And don't forget that the admission is free."

POLICE CHIEF STAYED AWAY

Wouldn't Attend Vice Conference at Newport.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 16.—Judge Advocate Hyneman, at today's session of the naval court of inquiry into alleged improper conditions in the Newport naval district, said that he expected to prove by evidence to be introduced later that Chief of Police John P. Tobin had refused to attend a conference of naval officers held four months ago before the Rev. Samuel Neal who was arrested on vice charges. At this conference allegations of immorality in Newport were discussed. He said he expected to prove also that Inspector Palmer of the Newport Police department who attended the conference, had been requested not to report some findings of the investigation to the chief, and that he had said he felt it his duty to do so.

The names of Governor Beckman and Charles P. Hall of Pawtucket, a former Red Cross worker were mentioned today in the testimony of Hamilton Fish Webster as among those interested in cleaning up conditions complained of at Newport last winter.

The judge advocate tried to obtain from the witness a statement as to who paid the expenses for the defense in the trial of Mr. ent, who was acquitted, by objections by counsel for the ministers were sustained by the court. Bishop Perry of the Episcopal diocese of Rhode Island is expected to take the stand tomorrow.

ALLIED VETERANS SCORE BIG IN MINSTRELS

Big Audience Delighted With First Night Production of the Benefit Minstrel Show

The Allied Veterans demonstrated on Monday evening at the Portsmouth theatre that they can entertain as well as fight the battles of the country when they presented their opening performance of their minstrel show. It was a great success and the large audience was very enthusiastic. The Allied Veterans which is composed of all of the veteran organizations of this city, are holding the minstrel for the benefit of their flourishing fund of Veterans hall.

The cast was made up of members of the different organizations and they have worked hard to make it the big success that it was. The overture was exceptionally good and the setting fine. Everybody but the interloper, Nelson T. Wright was in blackface and in costume and it made a very effective stage setting. The show went exceptionally well for the first night, and they expect to make the staff in the shape. The ends were all good workers and they did not overdo their jokes. The soloists were all good and their numbers were well applauded, while the chorus was a distinct feature of the show, both in volume and quality.

Bandmaster Frank Zangari was the leader of the orchestra and the music has been entirely under his direction and he had a large and well balanced orchestra and all of the arrangements for the songs were well done.

The solo numbers were by Stewart S. Humphreys who sang "When the Rainbow Shines Bright at Noon" and he was in fine voice. A. L. Sprague rendered in fine shape "Mother Machree." Daniel O'Leary, the popular baritone rendered "Courage" in his usual good style. Curly Primmerman sang "I Love You Just the Same Sweet Adeline." Daniel O'Leary was well received in "I Love a Ship Without a Sail." Wesley Downing made a hit with his song "Sweet Adeline."

The ends in addition to their jokes which were well handled by the interloper Mr. Wright, each had a solo and they were all put across in fine shape. W. K. Woods opened with "When January" F. C. Malley sang "I'm Happy When the Preacher Makes You Mine" C. E. Howe sang "Leader of Company B" Joe Bonin got away with "I Gave Her That" Omer Comau had a hit with "Hippity Hop" and Sherman Burke had a recitation "Huckle The". The quartet was also a feature of the overture assisting with the solos. Three good vaudeville acts were given following the overture and they were all good. John A. Wright making a decided hit with his dancing and George Wilson in his Banjo act was really clever. The musical act was also very good.

Captured in Jungland was the close

FRANK ZANGARI
Director of Orchestra

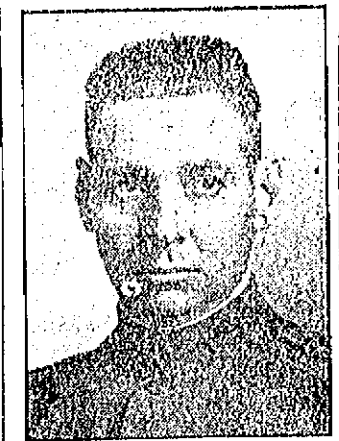

ing act and this was one of the most pretentious afterpieces ever staged with a local minstrel show. It was written and directed by J. R. Baird who took the lead and it was very funny. The Irish dancers being an especial feature. This was given in three scenes and they were remarkably well done and a great credit to the organization and the company.

The following is the program, which will be repeated this evening and if anything the show will go with more snap.

Enlisted Personnel for the Yard and Receiving Ship.

A recent order from the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department which called for a reduction of the enlisted personnel of the naval stations to 100 men, and later revoked on account of a protest from the naval prison, has been taken up again by the bureau. This time they leave out the prison complement and direct that 85 men be assigned to the receiving ship Southey and the navy yard. The order is looked upon as final this time owing to so many men needed in the fleet.
